say it again, say it again i know you love to hear yourself speak words that you think i can't follow
maybe that's the way you and i will always relate you always had the quickest wit the quickest quips and i can't keep up this glare that you have are rare gifted gal(?) and i'm just jealous
but i won't let how i sincerely feel dear stand in my way 'cause there's no love lost that i can't find again, my dear friend
you always said that we're friends but that must depend which way the wind blows this glare that you have you're all set of plans and i just follow
so i won't let how i sincerely feel here stand in my way
