These feelings inside, are just about to tear me apart, and I know You're just sitting there saying there saying he was alright
But trust me, it all comes back to you in the end so don't worry
I'll be alright not answering your call

Why, would I, be the one to, hold you everynight when you need it
And be the most that I can be when Love is only a trick that you're pulling on me
Love is the only way that you're going to get to me
Love is only a game that you're playing on me

Well I guess you'll, be fine.
Call up another man and tell him that you need him, tonight.
You're just sitting there saying he was alright
So I hope he plays you... like you played me.

Why, would I, be the one to, hold you everynight when
you need it
And be the most that I can be when
Love is only a trick that you're pulling on me
Love is the only way that you're going to get to me
Love is only a game that you're playing on me
