Killing all that's left in me
Thus, close my heart from unity
To never lose control again
And never hide from what I am
Awake, my anger and haunt this earth

Broken she stands and broken I am
Wishing to feel the pain again
Creating dimensions by Thy hands
Dark angels come to me...

Never dare to speak to me again
Yet, my will is drowned in anger
Parting the fire from our earth
Enforcing my desire with the gift of death's rebirth

Dark angels come to me
The truth is mine to speak since all hope has died
Consuming life that crawls the Earth for a last time

Hide before the light
Running back in time
Reign until the end
Thou shalt be crowned with blood on Thy hands

Echoes in my soul have died
Long before the dawn of time

What I have seen lies beyond all imagination
I never thought this could be the end
All through my mind, through my soul
Through my burning hatred
