our instincts are inhuman but it's not our will walking through the ash our mission is to kill as we keep walking the earth turning black with sword in hand we await the attack horror vision flames growing higher no way back lost in the fire lightning strikes there's no return final terror now we burn this is not our wish but hate is so strong nothing seems to change as the battle goes on shadows of fire they make me scream changing my mind creating bizarre dreams out of control, running for safety branded eyes death or glory forgotten pleasures let there be silence the disease is brutal violence memories hidden behind a wall of lies bodies abnormally rotten holocaust! we never learn and life shall be forgotten screaming children they'll come for revenge the air is poisoned by an awful stench children of tomorrow used to be so strong warriors! now they are all gone fight for your freedom go out and slay and to their graves they all went away
