You bring a sudden ray of hope that's comes with every lightning bolt, I love to watch them go up in smoke/You bring a soft summer smile, come in every once in a while, I wish you'd go the extra mile for me tonight/And everybody knows it but no one wants to show it they all just want to throw it in my face/You bring a sudden ray of hope that comes in very can of coke I love to feel it roll down my throat/You bring a soft subtle style that comes around every once in a while wish you'd go the extra mile for me tonight/And everybody knows it but no one wants to Show it they all just want to throw it in my face
