I wonder when we first bought into this so satisfied with status quo have we convinced ourselves that this is all there is well all that is within me says we were meant to break free.

[chorus]

live like there's no tomorrow love extravagantly lead a life to be followed goodbye ordinary goodbye ordinary

We were never meant to compromise settle for mediocrity this life was never made to be a waste of time well all that is within me says no more just existing. [back to chorus]

No more complacency no more just settling this time goodbye to atrophy for we were meant to be alive.
