Head down as I decide whether or not to abide, Head down head down for more and it's what all the fighting's always for.
So quit all your whining quit the complaining-
Head down better lead the floor.
You bleed back, bleed back discussions' over and done
with
So why don't you spend some time outside yourself
true you may have the final word,
But by default it takes one great mind to lead our selves right back outside.
You oughtta blame the man on the string he'll bring an end to every thing
So quit all your whining quit the complaining...
Head down, Head down protection is everything everything we need.
You bleed back, Bleed back discussions over and done
with
So why don't you Spend some time outside of yourself
true you may have the final word,
But by default it takes one great mind to lead our selves back outside-
So blame the man on the string he'll bring an end to everything.
Should have paid attention to Everything you said you'd do.
But you don't ask for change.
Your politics are strange.
You would waste our time,
And blow another line.
But you don't speak for me - NO you don't speak for me.
So blame the man on the string he'll bring an end to everything.
