Do you ever feel alone?
Are you ever coming home?
Do you ever feel like breaking out like I do now?
Did you ever wonder why we could never touch the sky?
As if God had put these limitations on us Say your prayers little one
'Cause I'll be there
At night we sleep a thousand dreams is all we need to forget her
This murder I commit inside my head is all I want to remember
But I want her back They've got us in this cage deprived of all our rage, and our hearts they scream like lions at what they have done
And if angels had a name, then I'd never be the same Well then what is yours and where now can I find you?
What do I care?
