Have all but been forgotten
Erase my name from God above
I have all but saved you from the blackness in between your lips and your tongue
We fight this war

This battle of lights
I waste away
I have all but saved you from myself
Attention of jealousy
Would the world make you happy?
Would I make you happy? I would

I have all but just forgotten your name and then your face
I found somebody new
She is, you make me feel like I have got the world underneath my shoes
We fight this war

In this battle of lights
I waste away
I have all but saved you from myself
Attention of jealousy
Would the world make you happy?
Would I make you happy? I would

I have all but been forgotten
Erase my name from God above
I have all but saved you from the blackness in between
your lips and your tongue

This battle of lights
I have all but saved you
We left this war
This battle of lights...

This battle of lights
I waste away
I have all but saved you from myself
Attention of jealousy
Would the world make you happy?

Would I make you happy? I would

I waste away

I have all but forgotten your name

Attention of jealousy

This battle of lights

I waste away
