

Meriwether "Easier"

Find your way out of this masquerade
Where we are all one
We're all one

We are the stars that cannot find
Ours is yours, so what is mine?
We are the night that never sees the sun in all it's glory
We are the birds of fire and flowers of disaster
We're one shot in a million
Just listen, can you hear it?
Was easier
Was easier, so

From the ashes of disaster, grow the roses of succes
If you find what you were after, you'd better tell the rest
From the finish line back to where we started from This fiasco was a tango that we never should have ever even ever thought of parting from
Was easier, so
