I can't believe you see the same things I see in you.
I see a boy who's bruises have run him through and Through

And these waves come crashing harder every night
Like waves I'm crashing harder every night
I think I'm gonna go insane

I will be the reason you will fall
I will be the treason on your walls
I've eyes like flies and a dirty mouth
I will be, I will be

I can't believe that failing's even on my mind
And if all of these walls could then we're in trouble
This time

And these waves come crashing harder every night
Like waves I'm crashing harder every night
I think I'm gonna go insane

I will be the reason you will fall
I will be the treason on your walls
I've eyes like flies and a dirty mouth
I will be, I will be

Cold, cold cold.
This is getting old.
And I just can't seem to leave, why do you think that Is.
Cuz these eyes of mine, they're tired, but wide.
They're red and white, reflecting fire.

I will be the reason you will fall
I will be the treason on your walls
I've eyes like flies and a dirty mouth
I will be, I will be
