It was cold outside
Had to make up my mind
Everything was broken and twisted inside
Seventeen if you know what I mean
Everything was broken

Close your eyes
Shut 'em up tight
You don't want to see what I have to hide
Keep them closed
Take off your clothes
I guess you think you wouldn't hurt me if I did not know

Open wide, I'm coming inside
Take it how you want it or leave me to die
Phoenix down, there's no one around
I'm ready to be broken, broken, broken, broken

Everything, everything
I want more
This fire burns from your pores
I, I want your body
You walk away

It's warm inside, so send an invite
Oh, you don't know what it feels like to be outside
You seem so close of what I don't know

But I am always open

6:14 is not what it seems
I ask but you won't tell me
So what does that mean
My heart and plan
It makes me unkempt
Just how much I want you but I feel like I can't

Open wide, I'm coming inside
I don't want to force you, but I just might try
Phoenix down, there's no one around
I'm ready to be broken, broken, broken, broken

Everything, everything
I want more
This fire burns from your pores
I, I want your body
You walk away

You and I, we seem to disagree
Just close your eyes and pleasure me
You and I, we seem to disagree
That's just how I feel

I want more
This fire burns from your pores
I want your body
You walk away
I, I want your body
You walk away

Open wide, I'm coming inside
Everything was broken and twisted outside
