It's time to be a man now, it's time to put your head down,
And pay for your mistakes, and the ones that you will make.

It's time to calm yourself down, it's time to stop the fighting now
And pay for your mistakes before it gets too late

You've been wasting all your energy on me, but I ain't wasting all my time
You could be everything I wanna be, you still won't be
on my mind
You're a ghost in my head
You're better off dead

Who do you think that you are
How did it come this far
I couldn't care, if you were right here
Who do you think that you are

It's time to be a man now, it's time put your hands down And clinch both of your fists around the ones that you will miss
It's time to take a break now, cuz I am on my way down
To be the one mistake, that you will never make again

You've been wasting all your energy on me, but I ain't
wasting all my time
You could be everything I wanna be, you still wont be
on my mind
You're a ghost in my head
You're better off dead

Who do you think that you are
How did it come this far
I couldn't care, if you were right here
Who do you think that you are

So pay for your mistakes and all the ones you will make.
Vie paid my mistakes and I'll make my great escape,
But you'll never get away

Who do you think that you are
How did it come this far
I couldn't care, if you were right here
Who do you think that you are
