I learned about life
Through your life
I learned about touch
Through your hands
I learned about love
Through your heart
I learned to be kind
Where I can

But the windows still broken
It's starting to freeze
And the only thing I only wanted
Is scattered in the breeze

I learned about strength
Through your strength
I learned about hope
In your eyes
I learned about taste
Through your lips
I learned about trust
Through your lies

But the cuts are still open
They're starting to bleed
It's the only thing I ever wanted
The only thing I need

Can you teach me to feel it?
I'll take it step by step
So I'll never miss a thing
Make me feel it
I'll get inside your head
Until you live inside of me

I learned about life
Ever lasting
I learned to contain
Your surprise
I learned about faith
By believing

I learned about lust
When it dies

And you're all I ever cared for
Through all that I've done
And the only thing that's not sown up
Are the lessons left undone

Can you teach me to feel it?
I'll take it step by step
So I'll never miss a thing
Make me feel it
I'll get inside your head
Until you live inside of me

Can you teach me to feel it?
I'll take it step by step
So I'll never miss a thing
Make me feel it
