I'm not ashamed
I'm not a critic
I'll never look up how the hell you did it
I'm not to blame
This isn't physics
We can't be lovers just because you said it

Every day is just the same
Watching as you play your game
And I just can't beat you

Can't you see we've reached the bitter end
Can't you see there's not much left to mend
Can't you see two lights collide
Talk the talk as you decide
Can't you see we've reached the bitter end

We're not the same
You're on a mission
You always beat me down into submission
I'm changing lanes
You're in the mirror
You've only got your feelings to consider

Every day you wind it up
Push me and you'll come unstuck
But it just starts over

Can't you see we've reached the bitter end
Can't you see two lights collide
Talk the talk as you decide
Can't you see we've reached the bitter end

There's a hole in your heart where
Something good must've been there
You need someone just like me
Only colder and empty

Every day is just the same
Watching as you play your game

And I just can't beat you

Can't you see we've reached the bitter end
Can't you see two lights collide
Talk the talk as you decide
Can't you see we've reached the bitter end
(Can't you see we've reached the bitter end)
Can't you see we've reached the bitter end
(Can't you see we've reached the bitter end)
(Can't you see we've reached the bitter end)
Can't you see two lights collide
(Can't you see we've reached the bitter end)
Talk the talk as you decide
Can't you see we've reached the bitter end
(Can't you see we've reached the bitter end)
