The Burn
(Music & Lyrics: A. Tito)

They said a time would come
The Sun would start to die
And grow real big, and burn like fury
Wasting everything around
Eat Mercury like a snack
Toast Venus to a cinder
And then Apocalypse would come
Upon the Earth, so it's our turn
...not a hope

The sky is set afire
The cities die in screams
While all the waters dry and
Leave us on a dusty ocean's floor
Then, in a day or two
The Sun would start to cool
The few survivors left to seek
A future in the great unknown
...all alone

Chorus: Where do we belong?
A dried up world ...by the Burn
Nothing like before
No place for us anymore

Hot screaming wind is scouring down
The seabed rocks
Sweeping the stinging sands ahead
There is no going back

Where do we belong?
A dried up worldby the Burn
Nothing like before
No place for us anymore
A wasteland for us all
On scorched earth ...by the Burn
Nothing like before
No place for us anymore
