Madness surrounds the blood in my veins
And the fires getting higher and higher
Not quite sure the next step to take
As the gun seems to be my desire

I have to make a stand
Wash the blood off my hands
Have another fix
Just to understand

Pain / screaming from / inside me

I just want to shout
But there's no way out
Have another fix
Just to understand

Pain / with no one here / to guide me

And then I met a man
He said "Hey son yes I understand what your going through
And if your sick of this life you've been living
And want yourself to be forgiven
Cause the past is past you got to put it behind you
So give me your hand and ask the Lord to guide you
To help you stand on your feet again
And take away all this pain"
