"For The One Unchanging"

In the lights of Eden, it's me you're feeling
In the cold December, still it's me you'll face
In all the lies I've told you, it's truth you shall find In all the names I've given you, it's me you'll understand
Now the waiting is over and it's vain to deny
Be relieved from desires, be awake, Open your eyes
Time is flowing and the world is turning Words now spoken for the one unchanging
In all the pain I've shown you, there's hope you shall see

With all the fear I've given you, it's love you'll understand
Now the waiting is over and it's vain to deny Be relieved from desires, wake up! Open your sleepless eyes
Dark thoughts in your mind will bring you tears
Like the dark clouds in the sky bringing rain
Anger in your heart will make your fears grow
Like the thunder in the sky screams IN pain
