"Take My Time"

Poor victims of delusion poor minds to question who we are Or amplified ignorance prayers to be saved from the dark I've built the walls around me, now I'm to be alone
inside
It's no complaint at all, I take my time
And life goes on and on with no decision Craven souls of desperation breed lies to trust in who we are Or mindless gaze of the ape man reflecting what's been automatized
I view a little sky here, and trying not to lose it all Content with my own, I take my time
And life goes on and on with no decision

I know the world is confusing, I need some time to be alone
And everything I fear losing, Tortures my soul all along Isolation, isolation... blazing my trail Right here waiting in silence
No place to run too dark to see Lies of the past AND dreams of the future
Are not enough here to define me Isolation, isolation... drives me insane
I've built the walls around me, now I'm to be alone
inside
It's no complaint at all, I take my time
And life goes on and on with no decision
