A million miles beyond the voice of reason
It's where I can be found
Got me walking with my head in the clouds
My feet don't even touch the ground

I don't know what you've done to me baby
But my resistance is gone
I thought I was strong,
Baby I was wrong
Cause you call my name and you turn me around
As my arms reach out and the walls come down
I surrender
I'm a fool in a game, I got no way to win
Take control of my heart, I give up, I give in
I surrender, I surrender to you
Life shatters loves innocence
My trusting days are through
My resistance was my best defense
But I never counted on you
You got the key to my destiny, babe
Just a willing slave
I can't walk away, no baby, I can't walk away
You just call my name, you turn me around
My arms reach out and the walls come down
I surrender
Like the fool in a game, I got no way to win
Take control of my heart, I give up, I give in
I surrender, I surrender
Here I am trying to hold back the ocean
Drowning in the sea of desire
I've been betrayed by my own emotions
You and my senses conspire
You just call out my name, my life won't be the same
I surrender
I'm a fool in the game, I got no way to win
Take control of my heart, I give up, I give in
I surrender, I surrender to you
I surrender, I surrender, I surrender to you
A million miles beyond the voice of reason
That's where I can be found
Balalaika.
