Verse1

I paid my dudes
I made some money, living the dream and it's life that I made
I lost some friends, yeah life's been funny
But I don't regret any car that I paid
I thought I had it all
(I was wrong)
I thought I had everything I needed
But I wasn't true cuz I didn't have you
And now I have someone to believe in
And strong enough to offer something new
To the man that has everything
(The man that has everything)

Verse2

I face this world and move some mountains
Gather my strength from the lessons I've learned
I lost my faith
I think god you found it and all that you asked is my love in return

I thought I had it all
(I was wrong)
I thought I had everything I needed
But I wasn't true cuz I didn't have you
And now I have someone to believe in
And strong enough to offer something new
To the man that has everything
(The man that has everything)

I thought I had everything I needed
But I wasn't true cuz I didn't have you
And now I have someone to believe in
And strong enough to offer something new
To the man that has everything
(The man that has everything)
