Here you come with that song on your face
Telling me with tears in your eyes
How you made a big mistake, now you say you realize
Was I suppose to just fade away into the lonely night
Just wait on this day

You would say you've learned your lesson well
Livin' without my love was hell
And I would believe every word that you say
But I know when I just look in your eyes

You don't want me bad enough
You don't want me bad enough right now
I don't think you've had enough
Baby, you don't want me bad enough right now

Maybe you should take some time
Think about the plans we once made
Before you put your dreams on the line
Think about the price to be paid
Was I suppose to open up the door
And carry on just like it was before

I hope you understand it's not the end
But I'm not goin' through this scene again
And I do believe every word that you say
But I know when I just look in your eyes

You don't want me bad enough
You don't want me bad enough right now
I don't think you've had enough
Baby, you don't want me bad enough right now

Love, you'll learn, is like a double-edged blade
The tables are turned, now it cuts both ways
If you're ready for love then I want you to stay
This time, yeah, this time I've gotta be sure, yeah

You don't want me bad enough
You don't want me bad enough right now
I don't think you've had enough
You don't want me bad enough right now

You don't want me bad enough
(You don't want me bad enough)
You don't want me bad enough right now
(You don't want me bad enough)

I don't think you've had enough
(You don't want me bad enough)
You don't want me bad enough right now
(You don't want me bad enough)

You don't want me bad enough
You don't want me bad enough
You don't want me bad enough
You don't want me bad enough

You don't want me bad enough
You don't want me bad enough
You don't want me bad enough
You don't want me bad enough
