So now you're back
So you've had your fun
And now you're comin' 'round again
Sure baby I should let you in
So you can let me down again

Well it doesn't really matter
What you say or do
You can tell me that you love me
But I know it ain't true

'Cuz you wouldn't know love
If it knocked down your door
You wouldn't know it now
You never knew it before

If it fell in your hands
From the Heavens above
You wouldn't know love
No, you wouldn't know love

You say you've changed
Say you've done me wrong
But you won't do it anymore
No darlin' I don't have to tell you
Where I heard that line before

Baby you'd say anything
To get back into my heart
But when it comes to lovin'
You don't even know where to start

'Cuz you wouldn't know love
If it knocked down your door
You wouldn't know it now
You never knew it before

If it fell in your hands
From the Heavens above
You wouldn't know love
No, you wouldn't know love

Did you think I'd believe anything
That you'd say
Let you come back to me
Baby there's just no way
Baby I've had enough

You wouldn't know love
If it fell in your hands
From the Heavens above
You wouldn't know love
You wouldn't know love

You wouldn't know love
If it knocked down your door
You wouldn't know it now

If it fell in your hands
You wouldn't know love
No, you wouldn't know love

You wouldn't know love
If it knocked down your door

If it fell in your hands
You wouldn't know love

You wouldn't know love
I said, you wouldn't know love
Wouldn't know love
