Growing up and getting old always seemed so much more than it's become.
Back when i was young the world was so less complicated there wasn't so much that i hated.
Things are easier when you are growing up.
Sometimes i wish i could get out of this. Sometimes it's my youth that im gonna miss.

Just wish i could remember what it was like when i was young. [x2]

*Now everyday im getting older, every week its getting colder. i just wish i could go back.
And all the memorys in my mind all just fade away. Its all turning black.
And one day this will all be over and ill look back on my life maybe ill remember a few good times.
Then death will come creeping in and maybe it will all begin abain.*

Just wish i could remember what it was like when i was young.
