

Michael Gurry

"Jane, Jane"

Visit "Jane, Jane" on MotoLyrics.com

Verse 1

Jane, Jane, go away
Too many things to do today
I should've known that your heart was gone
I should've known it when you said we had to talk

Chorus A-1

You could've called me a moron
You could've said that the world was gonna end
You could've called me a loser
Why'd you have to call me your friend?

Verse 2

Jane, Jane, there you go
You get frustrated and the anger flows
You spend three hours speaking your mind
We've had this conversation a million times

Chorus A-2

You could've said it was over
You could've said that you won't see me again
You could've called me a low life
Why'd you have to call me your friend?

Chorus B-1

Friends and Lovers
They lie endlessly
Only Enemies... (Tell the truth)

Bridge

I can't get enlightened, make it right
Change receptions overnight
Get into a happy place
Smile and make a friendly face
I couldn't make this thing work in the end
So what the hell on earth makes you think I can be your friend?

Chorus A-3

You could've said it was over
You could've said that you won't see me again

You could've called me a low life
Jane...

Verse 3

You could've called me a low life loser, alcohol abuser
I'll tempered and maladjusted, Neurotic and self-destructive

Stupid, selfish, vacant, angry and impatient
Unmotivated, lazy, two shots away from crazy

Prone to swingin' bad moods, asshole with an attitude
Nihilistic, too repressed, insecure, self-obsessed

Always out to offend, one way street to dead end
Jane, call it quits, but don't call me your friend

Chorus B-2

Friends and Lovers
They lie endlessly
They say that Only Enemies...
Tell the truth

Visit Michael Gurry page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.

MotoLyrics.com | Lyrics, music videos, artist biographies, releases and more.