You'll never know how pretty you are
But I can see the magic in your stars
Now there's something that I want to do to capture this moment for you

I'm taking your picture
So I don't forget ya
You're so damn beautiful
Just smile for the camera
So I can remember
You're so damn beautiful

The mystery of life surrounds you I know
For I just want to keep you so close now black and white is all so clear when I'm dying to have you right here

I'm taking your picture
So I don't forget ya

Cause you're so damn beautiful

So I can remember

That you're so damn beautiful

Yes you are

And if I were to lose you

This would take me back to the way we were

Just one look is all I need from you

To get by

I'm taking your picture

So I don't forget ya

So I can remember

You're so damn beautiful

So don't you know how pretty you are
