Working Again

--words and music by Michael Stanley

from "Heartland", 1980, EMI Records Group

Good morning
Just one more cup of coffee
Take the highway
I'm gonna make it to the line
And put my time in
Like my old man before me
Died in dreamland
With the union by his side

But not tonight
Tonight I'm gonna try a little harder
But come the light I'm gonna be working
But not tonight
Tonight I'm gonna try a little harder
But come the light I'm gonna be
Working again ...

Talk to me
Just don't talk at me
Don't look through me
Don't push me to the wall
Cause right now, right now
There ain't a lot left to lose
And from where I sit
It just ain't that far a fall

But not tonight
Tonight I'm gonna try a little harder
But come the light I'm gonna be working
But not tonight
Tonight I'm gonna try a little harder
But come the light I'm gonna be
Working again ...

Out on the street tonight
There ain't nothing to look up to but the sky

It's so close a reach tonight
All the sellers, all the buyers
All the lovers, all the liars

And baby
You keep telling me what you're needing
If only
I just had a little more to give
But I'm tapped out, tapped out
Broke down and busted
And this ain't no
It just ain't no way to live

But not tonight
But come the light I'm gonna be working
But not tonight
Tonight I'm gonna try a little harder
Working again ...

I'm gonna be working again...
I'm gonna be working again...

Working again...
Gotta be working to fade
