It's cold inside, as the wind blows through my heart There's no land in sight and I'm drifting away in the dark
Then somewhere in the distance I can see it burning bright
Your existence, In You I see the light
And I need You now, change my heart somehow
Show me Your way, don't let me stray anymore
I'm giving my life to You, in everything that I do
Oh Lord I need You
There will be storms ahead but I'll have You right there by my side
In Your eyes I've read, that You'll make all the storms subside
Then somewhere not so distant, I can see it burning
bright
Your existence, You are the light
And I need You now, change my heart somehow
Show me Your way, don't let me stray anymore
I'm giving my life to You, in everything that I do
Oh Lord I need You
