Visit "Remember Me" on MotoLyrics.com

In a time where promises are empty, and love is fleeting
Everyone is searching for a chance, a better way
When you look to Heaven do you see a place that's waiting
And do you look to me as the one who will take you away
All I desire, is all that you need Truth and a chance to be free
All that I ask, is that you would try and Remember me
I'm more than a memory
I'll come for you
Like a thief in the night
If you get yourself right and remember me
From the mourning of the start in time,
I've known your face
And I have always held my love for you in the highest place
