Who is the you that no one else can see?
In your heart the lonely one afraid to be Lost again, need a friend

You hide your soul to keep the hurt inside
All alone, your tears call out into the night
Is He there, does He care?

Yes, I know your name, every prayer you pray
I'm the one who brought you to this place
The voice who sings to you, the hand that clings to you Oh my child, I've always known your name, known your name

I hold you close to Me, close to heart
And this kind of love will find you anywhere you are Never fear, I am here

Yes, I know your name, every prayer you pray
I'm the one who brought you to this place
The voice who sings to you, the hand that clings to you
Oh my child, I've always known your name, known your

Yes, I know your name, every prayer you pray
I'm the one who brought you to this place
The voice who sings to you, the hand that clings to you
