"They Stretch For Miles"

Visit "They Stretch For Miles" on MotoLyrics.com

Up for days cutting losses and trading in the most precious of wings
These nights
That never end,
and these ghosts
will never know true rest

They stretch for miles, they take me home
They stretch for miles, they take me home

In the name of love and you I say sometimes when you win the war you lose it all Towering,
they stretch for miles
speaking as eloquently as the tallest of tales

They stretch for miles, they take me home
They stretch for miles, they take me home

They stretch for miles! They take me home!
They stretch for miles! They take me home!
They stretch for miles! They take me home!
They stretch for miles! They take me home!

"The possibility, of, physical and mental collapse is now very real. No sympathy for the Devil.
Keep that in mind. Buy the ticket, take the ride."
