

Conway Twitty "A Million Teardrops"

Visit "A Million Teardrops" on MotoLyrics.com

Well, I picked up my baby at the usual time last night
It was one of those nights when nothing seemed to turn out right
Guess I did something wrong she made me take her home
She gave me back my ring and then she said goodbye
Now there are millions of teardrops, drop, drip,
droppin' from my eyes.

I know I shouldn't worry she's done the same thing before But every time she leaves me it hurts me more and more
I thought that I was tough and all that stuff
I even said that no one could ever make me cry
Now there are millions of teardrops, drop, drip,
droppin' from my eyes.

I couldn't keep the tears from flowing I couldn't keep the pain from showing Nothing I did seem to help at all The tears fell like a waterfall.

--- Instrumental ---

All day long I try to get her out of my mind
But nothing seems to help because I think about her all the time
This heartbreak is something I can't take I gotta find that girl and make her realize
And stop these millions of teardrops, drop, drip,
droppin' from my eyes.

And stop these millions of teardrops, drop, drip,
droppin' from my eyes.
And stop these millions of teardrops, drop, drip,
droppin' from my eyes...

Visit Conway Twitty page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.

