Your eyes reflect the sadness
Inside your broken heart
You're afraid to love again so openly
I'd gladly spend my lifetime
Repairing every part
Oh, that's close enough to love for me.

And if you're hung up on the memory
Of some other man
When you close your eyes, if it's still him you see
If I can't have you completely
I'll cherish what I can
Oh, that's close enough to love for me.

Pickin' up the pieces
Is hard to do alone
And now your mind is set on stayin' free
I just want to hold you
Until the hurt is gone
Oh, that's close enough to love for me.

I just want to hold you
Until the hurt is gone
Oh, that's close enough to love for me...
