Well, I have walked love's winding pathway
Seeking to find love's treasures untold
And just when I reached the end of my journey
I'd find that I have three last steps to go.

The first step was heartache I took when you cheated
The next step was heartbreak he held you so near
The last step I'm taking now that you love another
Because you lie I cry these eternal tears.

My fortune to love like rain from above
I never know eternaly I love you so.

My journey is over now and I realized
These eternal tears forever I'll cry.

My fortune to love like rain from above
I never know eternaly I love you so.

My journey is over now and I realized
These eternal tears forever I'll cry.

My journey is over now and I realized
These eternal tears forever I'll cry.
