

Conway Twitty

"I Will Always Find My Way To You"

Visit "I Will Always Find My Way To You" on MotoLyrics.com

If I were a sailor, Lost upon the tide
Sailing round in circles, Half an ocean wide
My heart would be my compass
It would guide me through
I will always find my way to you.

If I were a soldier, In some far distant land
Your face and my memory, Rifle in my hand
I would not fear the bullets, No matter how they flew
I will always find my way to you.

Like a lighthouse on the darkest night
Your love will always shine
And though I may have lost my way
That beacon, I will find.

If I were flier in another time and place
Floating lost and helpless
In the endless bounds of space
I do know more than speak your name
And hope would rise you
I will always find my way to you.

I will always find my way to you...

Visit Conway Twitty page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.