(Eddie Setser)

Julie was the life of my soul
Came along and showed me all a woman has to show
She never made me promises about loving me always
She just made me happy while she stayed.

Time and changes changed her mind one day
She went to find her world in some strange city far away
Now I stand here lookin' through that Appalachian rain
Turning Julie over in my mind again.

Some she took from me some she left behind
And I get by the best I can Still I smile and thank to Lord oh that Julie took the time
To stop and love a boy into a man.

All in all she sure was good for me
What I feel inside is more than just a memory
And if I had a gift to give to any man I know
He'd have a girl like Julie sleeping softly in his soul...
