It was in my weakest moment
When temptation was so strong
Then the mem'ry of your sweet love
Came and got me and brought me home.

Today I tried to tell myself
I didn't love you anymore
Even led temptation take my hand
And lead me to her door.

Just as her footsteps came to me
I knew that I was wrong
Then the mem'ry of your sweet love
Came and got me and brought me home.

Just to know that you were waiting
Made everything else seems small
And if I could make the things come close
I came to losing it all.

It was in my weakest moment
When temptation was so strong
Then the mem'ry of your sweet love
Came and got me and brought me home.

--- Instrumental ---

Just to know that you were waiting
May everything else seems small
She made me forget my world at home
But only for a while

Then I remeber the times I fail
How she always pushed me on
Then the mem'ry of your sweet love
Came and got me and brought me home...
