You're nobody with no one to care
You're nobody with no one to share
You'll find that dreams are your destiny
You're nobody to no one but me.

You're nobody with no lips to kiss
You're nobody with no one to miss
You'll find that dreams are your destiny
You're nobody to no one but me.

No one to all when you're alone
No one to be your very own
No one to kiss and hold you tight
No one to hold you through the night.

You're nobody without memories
But to somebody you're everything
His hope, his laughter, his destiny
And darlin', that someone is me...
