I've heard men talk about the women they have known But somehow they don't compare with the one they got at home
She's always an angel who never does no wrong But her kind just don't rhyme, she just don't fit my song.

No, my lady ain't no angel with a halo or silver wings
She can't make my home a castle she can't make me a king
But if you're thinking she's not special let me set the story straight
No, my lady ain't no angel, she's a woman all the way.

--- Instrumental ---

She walks around on the ground like she supposed to do
And that ain't heaven in her eyes it's just the pearly blue
I know that she's not perfect and I know she makes mistakes
My lady ain't no angel, she's a woman all the way.

No, my lady ain't no angel with a halo or silver wings
And when I hold her in my arms I don't hear angel sing She's just a girl who loves me and understands me when I say
My lady ain't no angel, she's a woman all the way...
