Let's try a smile for a while and hold somebody's hand
Soon you're gonna find your blues are gone
Let's all love one another there's a woman for every man
This old world's been short on love too long.

Come here darling hold your head up
You say the one you love is gone
If you find another first you got to get up
You've just been too short on love too long.

Let's try a smile for a while and hold somebody's hand
Soon you're gonna find your blues are gone
Let's all love one another there's a woman for every
This old world's been short on love too long.

Hey, you with the bottle I know you're lonely
But the hurt will just be worst when the drink is gone
Somewhere there's someone who love you only
You've just been short on love too long.

Let's try a smile for a while and hold somebody's hand
Soon you're gonna find your blues are gone
Let's all love one another there's a woman for every
man
This old world's been short on love too long...
