Last night was our last night together
And it's too soon to know what I'll go through
They say time will tell me if it's over.
But your leaving left me still loving you.

I know the hurt of the last time will haunt me a lifetime.
And the worst is yet to go through.
And with each hurt there will be one more than the one
just before.
For your leaving left me still loving you.

If I can't have you then I'll hold you in memory
Remember we made quite a few.
I can't believe your love has left me
And your leaving left me still loving you.

I know the hurt of the last time will haunt me a lifetime.
And the worst is yet to go through.
just before.
For your leaving left me still loving you...
