Loose lips sink ships mutiny in the midst
Slit wrists at a shake of those hips

I claw a message, on the optics
As a reminder a warning
So forge a lifetime skull full of dynamite
I want to colour the collective
So count the victims collect the casualties
It's a danger to the program
This is not a freak of nature
We never saw this one coming

With pride against the grain

I craft these stories but borrow the language cracks in your veneer let me in
With tales of torture sex and cyanide
And still your bullshit is wearing thin
So keep that dirty little mouth of yours shut
For a minute hide that filthy smile
So when you can't place these shallow feelings Pray for a manifestation

With pride against the grain, Fight against the flow

Just like an ill dream that taints the day black.
