"Lonesome drifter"

I'm just a drifter
I stop at every town along the way
I left her back there
I just barely got to know her lovely name
And I don't know when I'll be back again
I don't know when I'll be back again
Storm clouds, thunder
It always gets so lonesome when it rains
She will find another
But my memory of her loveliness remains
And I don't know when I'll be back again
I don't know when I'll be back again

Just a lonesome drifter
Walk across a never-ending stage
Just a lonesome drifter
Never days, another endless
Highway. Highway

I'll think about her
I never ever thought I'd see today
More than a lover
She touch me in a very special way
But I don't know when I'll be back again
I don't know when I'll be back again

Just a lonesome drifter
Walk across a never-ending stage
Just a lonesome drifter
Never days, another endless
Highway. Highway
