Sitting on his throne in the temple of doom
Casting evil spells in the blood painted room

He's grinning like a shark when the crystal makes a spark
You can hear his evil laughter, cruel cold and dark.

Oooooohh, his evil face will turn your blood into ice

Sacrifice your holy heart tonight
Out of the night into the light.
You've seen your life, through distorted eyes

From black to white
Out of the fight
You've seen your life, through distorted eyes

We are shouting "save our souls", when he walks through the door
There's hate in the air and serpents on the floor

His lips against my cheek, the smell of Judas Kiss
He will sacrifice your soul, and destroy your only bliss
