I've lost my country, I've lost my throne
I've lost my brothers, I've lost my home
I've lost my children, I've lost my wife
A few more steps and I lose my life.

Brother to brother under the cross
Undefeated, no one like us
We ride like thunder, side by side
Now, we are scattered, so many died

All for this mission, that set me on trail, to the temple of the graal...

Too many years, too many roads, too many sorrows,
too little hope.
Cause all I lived for, all I believed, all disappeared, still
I breathe.
You are not to blame for this bloodshed, you are not to blame for the pain.
You are not to blame so they say.

To the temple of the graal...
