There was a time of so much insecurity
Eternity, yes I thought and hoped and prayed
It must have been you

With eyes of love you looked at me
Someone who is so different

This was the beginning of a love made pure
Truth, and honestly
A neverending dream that we had to wake up
Will you forgive me

There was nothing you've done wrong
Still no one like you
Eternity, I never new someone
That could be like this

And it's so confusing that I reject you
And yet it's a pity, to me and you
The hardest decision that I have left you
And it made my pride (It made me whole)

With eyes of love you looked at me
Someone who is so different

This was the beginning of a love made pure
Truth, and honestly
A neverending dream that we had to wake up
Will you forgive me

Now we walk alone again
And we both miss the time
Though it won't come back again
It's been kept inside
My mind

With eyes of love you looked at me
Someone who is so different

This was the beginning of a love made pure
Truth, and honestly

A neverending dream that we had to wake up
Will you forgive me
