"Little Monsters"

My heart is just so big and just a bit sick, I'm just a little monster.

I just think I love you but you think you are too cruel
So you're just a little monster.

I love my little monsters and their owner, I scream once
in a while

And then I realise that they are all my life.

I love my little monsters and their owner, I scream once
in a while

And then I realise that I need them to be alive.

I said "one day, I'll fly", they said "we'll break your wings at night"

So they are just little monsters.

Their boobs take a lot of place 'cause they're bigger than their faces.

They are just little monsters.

It looks attractive at first sight but it ends into a hard fight.

It's just a little monster.

You make me laugh and cry but it will always be you and I.

You're just my little monsters.
