I've said this more than once that I'm drowning
The surface creeps up beyond my hands
The more I wish I could see it escape me
Have I grown cold or do I just forget that I

Feel the same everyday
It's just a happy page another stage where I can
Plead my case
Show my face and how I'm drained inside
Still my lifes torn in two

I've done this more than once and I'm sorry
For all the things that you don't understand
The more I scream I can feel that your leaving
Have you grown cold or do you just forget that you

Feel the same Everyday
It's just a happy page another stage where I can
Plead my case
Show my face and how I'm drained inside
Still my lifes torn in two

Can't forget that I x3

Feel the same everyday
It's just a happy page another stage where I can
Plead my case
And show my face and how I'm drained inside
Still my life is torn because I

Torn in two
Everyday, I'm drowning...
