Even a fortune teller couldn't tell you more about woman than me Don't care how a woman clever, I sure I smarter than she I could size up any woman in here or on the street even though we have never met I could tell you if she's sour, if she's salt, if she's sweet, if she's easy or she's hard to get

Now if her eyes started coming kind of sleepy when you watch she face My advice is to take it kinda light maybe she's out for tricks
But if she smile with dimples on she cheek and if she laugh and she got open teeth Don't let she get away, she have a bag of sugar down
dey. (2x)

Some men like to see a woman very well built and have plenty butt
To be with her they're in heaven to capture her is a must Well with me it really doesn't matter even if the chest flat like 2 fry egg I would give she any money just as long as I could see she have two knob knee or bandy leg

If she pretends to be serious and play she's not observing you Grab she hand if she fight to pull away from you that's a clue Yes if she smile with dimples on she cheek and if she
laugh and she got open teeth
Don't let she get away, she have a bag of sugar down
dey.
Don't let she get away, she have a bag of sugar down
dey.

If you have a bachelor neighbor and your girl keeps talking him bad Saying how he's so vulgar, wearing jockey shorts in the yard

Invite the bachelor over, see if she will treat him with scorn

Keep a rather observation watch her reaction during the conversation

If when he talks she can't watch him she just bow she head or turns she face

That is a sign she is willing to go with him any time or place

So when he gone I am advising you from then on you must wear jockey shorts too

That's the only way you gon protect the sugar down
dey

Don't let she get away, she have a bag of sugar down

Before a man settles with a woman he better know what it's all about

Especially if she have children measure the size of she mouth

A big mouth woman will settle with any man for a drink of rum

And they so easy to handle, they don't give no kind of trouble

From the time you call them they come.

And if their lips start to tremble and they blushing when they hear you speak

Take a look at the nose if it's perspiring you should know their resistance weak

And if they dress loose and kinda fluffy that is a sign of some type of pregnancy

You better run away, is only jail and courthouse down
dey.

Don't let she get away, she have a bag of sugar down
dey

(She have it dey, she have it dey) yes

(She have it dey, she have it dey) Open teeth woman

(Sugar) you know

(She have it dey, she have it dey) yes

(She have it dey, she have it dey) Open teeth woman

(Sugar)
