"President"

Would you vote, if I asked you to vote
Join my party, and never look back
Would you debate, if you saw me debating
Would you get me delegates, tonight?

Would you nominate me, at a caucus
Or in the polls? Oh please tell me this
Now would you die, if someone loses their mind
To save the man you love

I can be your president, baby
I will veto my way to your heart
I will pledge for better health care
So please don't give your vote away

Would you swear to attend party conventions?
Or would you lie and support somebody else?
How is my hair? My opponent's stare?
I don't care I'm elected, tonight

I can be your president, baby
I will veto my way to your heart
I will pledge for better health care
So please don't give your vote away

Oh, I just wanna wave at you
You can watch me on tv
How is my hair? My opponent's stare?
I don't care I'm inaugurated, tonight

I can be your president, baby
I will veto my way to your heart
I will pledge for better health care
So please don't give your vote away

I can be your president, baby
(I can be your president babyyyy)
I will veto my way to your heart
I will pledge for better health care
So please don't give your vote away
So please don't give your vote away

And I will be your president
